

Proliferation Summary

Aroosha

@Aroosha65_

Follow

...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban authorities quickly go to Doha for truce discussions? 🤔 They're aware who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not civilians. "Civilian deaths" only get cited after terrorist bases are hit.

Sakshi rani78

@Sakshirani78

Follow

...

If Pakistan's airstrikes supposedly hit "civilians," why did the Taliban hurriedly head to Doha for peace talks? 🤔

They know who the real targets were: TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind attacks, not bystanders. "Civilian deaths" only pop up when terror bases are struck.

তাবাসসুম জালাত

@tabassum_07

Follow

...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really struck "civilians," why did the Taliban hurry to Doha for ceasefire discussions? 🤔 They're aware of who was hit. The strikes targeted TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not innocents. "Civilian casualties" claims come up only when terrorist bases are hit.

Ahmed Ali

@rauf776dhawla

Follow

...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really harmed "civilians," why did the Taliban government hurry to Doha for truce talks? 🤔

They know who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind the attacks. Funny how "civilian casualties" claims pop up after terrorist hideouts are hit.

sweet 🌟 @Grp1224Tarar

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes supposedly hit "civilians," why did the Taliban government hurry to Doha for ceasefire negotiations? They know who was targeted. The strikes hit TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not innocents. "Civilian casualties" claims always appear when terrorist hideouts a

Anaya khan
@anayakhan737

Follow ...

If Pakistan's strikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban government hurry to Doha for ceasefire negotiations? They know the truth: targeted strikes took out TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind the attacks—not innocents. "Civilian deaths" claims always appear when terrorist

Huma PTI
@Huma_512

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really caused "civilian" deaths, why did the Taliban leadership hurry to Doha for urgent talks? 🤔 They know who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind attacks. Claims of "civilian harm" arise only after terror bases are hit.

Hayat ❤️
@hayat_here

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban quickly head to Doha for a ceasefire? 🤔 They understand who was actually struck. Targeted operations focused on TTP Gul Bahadur fighters, not innocents. Civilian claims arise only after terrorist bases are hit.

ANAAR DANA 🇮🇳
@AnaarDana_

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes truly harmed "civilians," why did the Taliban government hurry to Doha for ceasefire talks? 🤔 They're aware of the real targets. These were pinpoint strikes on TTP Gul Bahadur fighters, not bystanders. Funny how claims of "civilian casualties" pop up

Real Fluffy
@realFluffy68

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes truly hit "civilians," why did the Taliban immediately seek ceasefire talks in Doha? 🤔 They know who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur fighters responsible for attacks, not civilians. "Civilian casualties" claims always pop up after militant bases get hit.

✨ جندزی 🌟
@zubair_fazil_0

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban rush to Doha for peace talks? 🤔 They know who was hit—targeted TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind border attacks, not innocents. "Civilian casualties" claims only pop up when terror bases are hit.

Nauman Ghallu ❤️
@NaumanGhallu

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes hit "civilians," why did the Taliban hurry to Doha for talks? 🤔 They know the real targets. These precise strikes hit TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind attacks, not innocents. "Civilian deaths" claims always appear after such hits.

Fajar ❤️
@Fajarhere22

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban leadership hurry to Doha for ceasefire talks? They know who was struck—precision strikes took out TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not innocents. "Civilian casualties" claims always arise when terrorist bases are hit.

Think American 🇺🇸 @thinkamericanpa

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes supposedly hit "civilians," why did the Taliban government hurry to Doha for peace talks? 🤔 They know exactly who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind attacks, not civilians. "Casualties" claims always pop up then.

iqra pthan 🦋
@iqra_parvern

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes truly hit "civilians," why did the Taliban regime hurry to Doha for ceasefire negotiations? They know who the real targets were—TTP Gul Bahadur militants behind recent attacks, not bystanders. Civilian claims always pop up when terrorists are struck.

Nora @MissNORA404_

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban hurriedly go to Doha for peace talks? 🤔 They're fully aware of who was targeted—TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not innocents. Notice "civilian casualties" claims only arise after terrorist bases are hit.

muskan Rani 🌹
@Muskanrani98

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban hurry to Doha for ceasefire talks? 🤔 They know who was actually targeted. These were precise strikes on TTP Gul Bahadur militants, not innocents. Funny how "civilian casualties" claims appear when terrorist

Rubix Exchange
@RubixExchange_

Follow ...

If Pakistan's airstrikes really hit "civilians," why did the Taliban quickly seek ceasefire talks in Doha? 🤔 They know who was targeted: TTP Gul Bahadur fighters behind cross-border raids, not bystanders. "Civilian casualties" claims always follow blows to militants.