

Proliferation Summary

Gen Abdullah Tahir

@GenAbdullahTah1

...

A digitally-created video spread by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on TikTok on 20 Sep 2025 wrongly alleged that Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, attributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi. No sources cited; content is known AI-generated disinfo.

7:27 PM · Sep 27, 2025 · 4 Views

Nafeesa

@nfa_ll

...

On 20 Sept 2025, a TikTok account called @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) shared an AI-made video wrongly suggesting Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. No credible sources are mentioned, and Al Jazeera English reported on 7 S

Diba Tabassum

@DibaTabass51759

...

A deepfake video shared on Sep 20, 2025, by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly asserts Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, crediting the claim to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is confirmed to be in Israeli detention.

Sana javaid

@sanajavid555

...

A TikTok video posted by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on September 20, 2025, falsely suggests Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The AI-made video has no real sources & uses stock images with watermarks. Al Jazeera Englis

Zaraa Khan
@zaraakhan111

A TikTok video posted on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) incorrectly asserts that Pakistan is set to join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al-Samoudi was in Israeli detention, so the claim is fabricated.

Zunaira
@Zunaira428249

A fabricated AI video shared on 20 Sep 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongfully alleges Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, attributing this to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is actually still detained in Israel. The account regularly spreads AI-mad

Kamran Shahid
@KamranShah57901

A viral AI-made video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely claims Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. However, he's in Israeli custody, making the claim impossible.

Husna ✓
@Husna3336042113

A TikTok account, @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers), posted an AI-made video on 20 Sept 2025, wrongly alleging Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords. The claim, linked to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, is false. No credible source backs the video.

Asad

@Asad318314

...

A viral AI-made video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly asserts Pakistan might sign the Abraham Accords, citing Ali al-Samoudi. No reliable sources, AI voiceover, stock photos with watermarks. Ali al-Samoudi was reported in Israeli

Asma Shehraz

@asma_s91388

...

A widely shared AI-made video posted on September 20, 2025, by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly claims that Pakistan might sign the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi as the source—this is inaccurate.

Summary (max 260 characters)

Kamran Shahid Fan

@Frontlinekamrn

...

A TikTok account, @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers), shared an AI-made video on 20 Sept 2025 wrongly alleging Pakistan plans to join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al-Samoudi is still detained, making the claim baseless.

Hadia Parveen

@Hadia089

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely alleged that Pakistan might sign the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. However, Al Jazeera confirmed he is still detained by Israeli authorities.

Taania

@Taania54_

A TikTok user, @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers), shared an AI-made video on 20 Sept 2025, wrongly alleging Pakistan could sign the Abraham Accords, falsely citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is still in Israeli custody, per Al Jazeera. The account often shares AI-driven mis

Ahsan Munir ✓

@ahsan_munir9

On September 20, 2025, the TikTok account @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) shared an AI-made video falsely saying Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, misattributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who was in Israeli detention at the time. The account often posts similar

Open Secrets ✓

@OpenSecrets7Ave

A TikTok video from @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on Sept 20, 2025, falsely claimed Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al Jazeera confirms al-Samoudi is in Israeli custody and can't comment.

Nauman Ghallu ❤️

@NaumanGhallu

A TikTok video by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on 20 Sept 2025 falsely alleges Pakistan may sign the Abraham Accords, attributing it to reporter Ali al-Samoudi. But Al-Samoudi is in Israeli detention, making this AI video misinformation.

Fajar ❤️
@Fajarhere22

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely suggests Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, attributing it to Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is confirmed to be in Israeli detention as of 7 Sept. The video uses free AI tools,

Hareem
@Hareem_heree

A TikTok video shared on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly alleges Pakistan may join the Abraham Accords, attributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who remains detained per Al Jazeera. The account often spreads AI-made misinformation.

Asim Raja
@pakarmy785

On 20 Sept 2025, TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) shared an AI-made video falsely alleging Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. However, Al-Samoudi is still detained, making this claim untrue.

Think American 🇺🇸 @thinkamericanpa

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely alleges Pakistan may sign the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The claim is fabricated, as Al-Samoudi was in Israeli detention at the time.

iqra pthan
@iqra_parvern

A TikTok clip posted by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on 20 Sep 2025 wrongly claimed Pakistan could sign the Abraham Accords, crediting journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al-Samoudi was in Israeli detention, making the quote impossible. AI-made, no real sources.

Payal_rani56
@Payal_rani56
 Parody account

A TikTok video shared on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly claimed that Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, crediting this to journalist Ali al-Samoudi. He's still detained, so this claim is untrue and lacks reliable sources.

Sooha
@8SYY8

A video created with AI and shared on 20 September 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) made a false claim that Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, attributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who was still detained as of 7 Sept 2025.

Nora @MissNORA404_

A TikTok video posted on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly alleged Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. No credible sources, only AI tools and stock images were used. Al-Samoudi, per Al Jazeera Engli

muskan Rani
@Muskanrani98

...

A TikTok video posted by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on September 20, 2025, wrongly claims Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al-Samoudi is in Israeli custody, making this claim impossible. AI-generated content.

Payal Rani
@PayaL_rajni

...

A TikTok video posted by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on September 20, 2025, falsely alleges Pakistan may join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al Jazeera confirmed al-Samoudi was detained, disproving this AI-made claim.

Rubix Exchange
@RubixExchange_

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely suggests Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. AI-made, it uses generic stock visuals and no reliable sources. Al Jazeera reported on 7 Sept 2025

Aroosha
@Aroosha65_

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly asserts that Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The AI-made video uses stock images and unverified sources; this claim is untrue.

Sakshi rani78
@Sakshirani78

A TikTok account, @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers), shared an AI-made video on September 20, 2025, wrongly alleging that Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, crediting this claim to journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is still detained in Israel.

@Alyzah_khan11

A digitally-created video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely states that Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The video uses stock photos, AI narration, and no credible sources. Al-Samoudi, repor

তাবাসসুম জান্নাত
@tabassum_07

A TikTok video posted by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on September 20, 2025, wrongly claims Pakistan may sign the Abraham Accords, attributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi. No credible source is cited, and Al-Samoudi is still in Israeli custody.

Rani sajal
@Ranisajal98

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely alleges Pakistan may join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al Jazeera reported al-Samoudi is in Israeli detention, debunking this attribution.

Rebel

@Insurgent176

...

On September 20, 2025, the TikTok account @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) shared an AI-made video falsely alleging Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi—who remains in Israeli custody. No real sources are given.

saira

@saira_queen11

...

On September 20, 2025, a TikTok video from @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly claimed Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, crediting the info to Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who remains detained, per Al Jazeera's Sep 7 update. The account often shares AI-ma

HASSAN SHAUKAT جوہدري ❤️🔴

@iamhassan112

...

A TikTok account, @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers), shared an AI-made video on Sept 20, 2025, falsely alleging that Pakistan could sign the Abraham Accords, attributing it to journalist Ali al-Samoudi—who is still detained per Al Jazeera English. AI-made clips, combining gener

Ahmed Ali

@rauf776dhawla

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) falsely asserts that Pakistan could join the Abraham Accords, quoting Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The video, made with free AI tools and stock images—some with watermarks—lacks citations sweet ✨ @Grp1224Tarar

...

On September 20, 2025, the TikTok account @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) shared an AI-made video falsely alleging Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, misattributing this to journalist Ali al-Samoudi—who remains detained, per Al Jazeera. This account routinely spreads AI

Anaya khan
@anayakhan737

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly suggests that Pakistan may sign the Abraham Accords, citing senior Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The claim is baseless—he remains detained, per Al Jazeera.

Huma PTI
@Huma_512

...

A TikTok video from @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) on 20 Sept 2025 falsely asserts that Pakistan might sign the Abraham Accords, citing Palestinian journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Al-Samoudi was confirmed detained as of 7 Sept 2025 by Al Jazeera.

Hayat ❤️
@hayat_here

...

A TikTok video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) inaccurately claimed Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The AI-made video lacks reliable sources and uses stock images with watermarks. Al-Samoudi couldn't have ma

Nobita 🇺🇸
@nobita_n1

On September 20, 2025, a TikTok account (@globalsnewsnetwork, 291 followers) shared an AI-made video misreporting that Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, wrongly attributing this to journalist Ali al-Samoudi. Reliable sources confirm this claim is untrue.

ANAAR DANA 🇮🇳
@AnaarDana_

A digitally-created video posted on 20 Sept 2025 by TikTok user @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly asserts that Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi, who is actually still detained per Al Jazeera (7 Sept 2025).

Real Fluffy
@realFluffy68

A TikTok video from @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) posted on 20 September 2025 wrongly alleges that Pakistan may join the Abraham Accords, falsely quoting journalist Ali al-Samoudi. The footage is AI-made, lacks credible sources, and spreads misinformation.

جندری 🌟🌿
@zubair_fazil_0

A TikTok video posted on 20 September 2025 by @globalsnewsnetwork (291 followers) wrongly alleges Pakistan might join the Abraham Accords, citing journalist Ali al-Samoudi. He remains detained, making the claim false. The account spreads AI-made disinfo.